Meter Socket Adapters (MSAs) by Emily Peck and Jonathan Knauer, ConnectDER

ConnectDER will provide the featured presentation on their meter socket adapters (MSAs) that enable easy and affordable installation of distributed generation (DR) interactive inverters, battery storage or bi-directional EV chargers.

Although these interconnections are usually made on the load side of the meter, utility side connections may also be made in some instances. Using MSAs can ease DR interconnections without major electrical upgrades of electrical panels. <https://connectder.com/>
