

REQUEST FOR APPLICATIONS for Distributed Energy Resource Conference Sponsorships

The Wisconsin Distributed Resources Collaborative is a 501 c(3) non-profit corporation formed under Chapter 181 of the Wisconsin Statutes. The organization is a voluntary collaborative committed to facilitating and promoting the successful deployment of economic, efficient, and environmentally responsible distributed resources in Wisconsin.

The Wisconsin Distributed Resources Collaborative has a limited amount of funding to donate toward distributed energy resource related activities. Relevant activities are conference / event sponsorships that are related to distributed energy resources. The Wisconsin Distributed Resources Collaborative encourages conferences and events that address a diversity of opinions on distributed generation. Successful applicants will consider the positions and viewpoints of stakeholders from various energy sector perspectives.

For purposes of this Request for Applications, distributed resources include distributed generation, energy storage and other power quality / storage devices, conservation and demand-side management. Distributed generation are small generating facilities (15 MW or less) located at a customer or utility site and may be stand alone or connected to the electric distribution system. These units are used for generating electricity alone or in combination with the use of waste heat.

Applications will be considered on a case-by-case basis by the Wisconsin Distributed Resources Collaborative under the terms and conditions of this Request for Applications.
